St. Canice's on the Move!

If you have moved house recently you will remember the ordeal it is. Even if it was a long time ago you will still have the emptying of boxes and the commotion in your mind. Imagine the logistics involved in moving over 600 children from their classrooms into prefabs! This is what is happening at St. Canice's Co. Ed School today. When I visited on Thursday it was most impressive to see how the logistics were working out. There is such a marvelous spirit of co-operation between teachers, staff and pupils that an atmosphere of excitement was prevailing. We wish everybody well in the moving and look forward to the return to a brand new building in two years' time. Good days are coming and in the meantime may they all settle in to these temporary quarters with smiling faces! –Fr. Jim
